Candidate Says the People Always Have Ruled and Always Will Rule

UTICA, N. Y., Aug. 18.—James Schoolcraft Sherman was formally notified today of his nomination as republican candidate for vice president. The ceremony of notification took place at 12:30 at Sherman's residence on Upper Genesee street, Senator Julius C. Burrows of Michigan, heading the committee and delivering the address of notification, in response to which Sherman made a formal speech of acceptance.

This is the biggest day the community has witnessed in a couple of generations. Preparations for "Sherman day" were undertaken weeks ago by a committee composed of several hundred citizens.

Big Fund Raised
A fund reaching about $15,000 was raised by popular subscription and the committee set about rigging an occasion which would do honor to its distinguished fellow citizen and shed lustre on the community. The decorations are elaborate, electrical effects, bunting, flags, evergreens, etc., being used extensively in converting the business and residential thoroughfares into avenues of beauty. For two miles from Baggs square to the Sherman residence, Genesee street is a riot of color with 34 electrical arches.

Early Morning Affair.
The day's program opened at dawn with an artillery salute and until midnight there will be something doing every minute. The weather conditions are ideal and thousands of visitors from every city and village within a radius of 150 miles of Utica are here to participate in the festivities. At 9:30 this morning occurred the annual parade and inspection of the local police and fire departments. This was concluded at 11 o'clock when members of the notification committee, riding in autos, escorted by the Conkling Unconstitutionals, 400 strong, started from Baggs square for the Sherman residence. A band of 125 pieces headed the column. The committee reached Sherman's at noon and the ceremonies were soon under way. A platform had been erected on the lawn fronting the residence for the members of the notification committee, the vice presidential no-

POPE DECLINES TO ELEVATE FARLEY FEARING A MODERNISTIC AMERICA; GIBBONS LEAVES IN BAD TEMPER

ARCHBISHOP FARLEY

GENEVA, Switzerland, Aug. 18.—Displeasure over the pope's refusal to view with favor the immediate elevation of Archbishop Farley of the New York diocese to the cardinalate today, was given as the reason for the hasty departure from Rome yesterday of Archbishop Cardinal Gibbons and Manager O'Connell.

Cardinal Gibbons, it is reported, strongly urged the people to heed the desire of the American Catholics for another cardinal, pointing out the present disproportion between America and Europe in favor of the latter, of the vatican's favors. To all the cardinal's arguments, however, the pope was unyielding, declaring he feared the modernistic trend of American Catholicism, and that as long as this extremely liberal spirit was so much in evidence, he would not favor the increase of America's representation in the congregation of the propaganda. At a later date, the pope declared, the demands of America might be granted.

Inquiries at the vatican today brought the reply that the Americans had "merely finished their visit." Neither the pope nor the papal secretary, Merry Del Val, would discuss further the question of the proposed elevation of Archbishop Farley.

An effort was made today to reach Cardinal Gibbons' party, but it had left Lucerne, and was enroute to Brunnen, on Lake Lucerne, and was inaccessible. Later the party will go to Paris.

"FIGHTING BOB" IS RETIRING TODAY

LAKE MOHONK, N. Y., Aug. 18.—"Fighting Bob" Evans was retired today in the navy, after a half century's active service. Except for a lame leg, which forced him to resign the command of the Pacific fleet, Admiral Evans looks as well as he ever did.

"The leg will be all right in a few weeks," said he. "I am 62 years old today and I feel as well as I ever did."

"The leg will be all right in a few weeks," said he. "I am 62 years old today and I feel as well as I ever did. Am gaining weight at half a pound a day."

"Retirement from active service does not mean that I have entirely quit the navy. In October I shall go to Washington and take up my duties as a member of the general board. Later I expect to take an active interest in the work of the San Cristobal Sugar company of Porto Rico, of which I have been president for some time."

WILHEMIA MARTIN DIES AT 82 YEARS

Mrs. Wilhemia Martin of St. Joseph Ridge died last night at 8 o'clock of old age and cancer of the stomach. Deceased was 82 years of age and leaves four sons and two daughters to mourn her loss.

The funeral will be held from the residence of her son, August Martin, in St. Joseph Ridge, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will take place in Mormon Coulee cemetery. Rev. J. Gamm will officiate and Mrs. Theo. Mannstedt is in charge.

GIRL PREVENTS SUICIDE

DEADWOOD, S. D., Aug. 18.—Crouching in the shadow of the shaft house of the New England hoist house, near this city, Thomas McCloud was apprehended by his fiancée just as he was about to cut his throat with a razor. McCloud has lived in Deadwood for several years, and until a recent streak of financial hard luck drove him to forgery and the passing of worthless checks he had borne an estimable character. After failing to get a job to liquidate his debt he gave up and wrote a long, pathetic letter to his fiancée, telling her what he intended to do. She immediately secured a carriage and, with the chief of police, hastened to the spot, arriving shortly after he did, and just in time to prevent his taking his life.

RIOTING ALL OVER, SPRINGFIELD HAS A "MORNING AFTER"

MASS MEETING PLEDGES SUPPORT TO THE LAW

SOME SHOOTING IN NIGHT

THIS WAS HARMLESS AND QUIET REIGNS TODAY

WILL PUNISH ALL MURDERERS

Deneen Offers Rewards and Grand Jury Will Probe and Punish Most Severely

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 18.—Public indignation at the crimes of the rioters and looters in the last five days, resulting in many deaths and the loss of property, crystallized today in a joint meeting of the chamber of commerce, consisting of 800 prominent business and professional men, and the Springfield Business Men's association.

The meeting was held this morning to denounce the acts of the rioters, to assure public officials of the sympathy and support of the substantial classes in the prosecution of offenders and commending Governor Deneen for his vigorous conduct in filling the city with enough soldiers to control the situation.

Peace Today.
Springfield is as peaceful today as though nothing had ever happened and but for the presence of troops, no one would know that rioting had been in progress.

During the night there were several outbreaks of minor character. Sentries and soldiers in several parts of that city were fired on from ambush. A single shot would be answered by a volley and a riot call, all serving to create excitement.

Arrests are being made by scores and the prospects for wholesale indictments are bright. None of the surviving injured are now considered in danger.

Murder Charge Against Rioters.
A revival of the law, such as Sangamon county has not known for a decade, is the work before the special grand jury, which is meeting this afternoon by order of Judge James A. Creighton.

Gov. Deneen has issued six proclamations offering rewards of $200 each for the arrest and delivery to the Sheriff of Sangamon county of the murderers of the following men killed in the riots: William Donagan, John Colwell, Scott Burton, J. W. Scott, Louis Johnson, Frank Delmore. The governor has also issued the following proclamation:

"To the Citizens of Springfield: A special grand jury was called today by the Hon. James A. Creighton to convene tomorrow at 10:30 o'clock for the purpose of conducting an investigation into the crimes which occurred here on Friday, Saturday and Sunday last.

"All evidence relating to these crimes should be presented to the grand jury at once, and I urge on all good citizens of this city to present such evidence as they may have or information which they may have or acquire to the Hon. Frank Hatch, state's attorney of Sangamon county, or to Gen. Edward C. Yonnig, in charge of the military forces here, regarding any crimes which have been committed during that time.

"It is the duty of citizens so to do, and in view of the extraordinary crimes which have occurred in the city of Springfield during the time mentioned every good citizen should exert himself to see that the perpetrators and those who aided, abetted, advised, or encouraged their perpetration are brought to speedy justice.

"CHARLES S. DENEEN, Governor of Illinois."

TOWN WIPED OUT.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Aug. 18.—According to a telephone message received here the town of Gore Bay on Manitoulin Island has been almost wiped out by fire. Fifteen business places went up in smoke. It is unknown if any were injured. The loss will be $150,000.

TEDDY WON'T STUMP

OYSTER BAY, Aug. 18.—The report published in New York that, because he had doubts of Taft's election Roosevelt would take the stump, was absolutely denied by the executive office here.

ORGIES WERE THE LIMIT

Mrs. Haines and Annis Were Expelled from Fort for Their Conduct While There

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—"The killing of William E. Annis by Captain Hains was expected by every officer in Fort Hamilton," said an officer today. "And the worst of it is that at any time two other tragedies of the same sort may occur as the result of orgies, which have disgusted every decent officer here, and of which one feature was the expulsion of Mrs. Hains and Annis from the Fort after Hains' return from the Philippines. Every officer in Fort Hamilton dreads the inquest on Annis, to be held tomorrow, some for the guilty fear of exposure, decent officers and their wives, for shame at being involved in revelations which will certainly result in a wholesale transfer from this post."

"GOLD BRICKED," BRYAN IS SAID TO WANT GUFFEY

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 18.—The democratic leaders of the state are here in secret session this afternoon. The meeting is attended by division chairmen, composing the state executive committee, and State Chairman Dimeling. The congressional nominees later joined the council to map out a full campaign.

There are signs that Bryan is anxious to make up with Col. Guffey, head of the democratic state organization, who was barred from the convention at Denver. Bryan is said to feel that he was "gold bricked" in May when the Bryan leaguers made him believe that the delegates to the state convention had been swerved from their instructions.

Quiet work to bring about an understanding has been going on for some time.

WANTS WAGES IN LIEU OF NOTICE

Arguments are being heard today before Judge Hunt in the case of J. A. Birsfield versus the Vote-Berger Telephone company. The case has been brought by Mr. Birsfield to recover $150 for salary from the company in lieu of a thirty days notice. The defendants claim certain patent rights of the company were taken by Birsfield and also that he was connected with some scheme with another member of the company, who was also discharged. The evidence of the defendants appears to have but little effect in the case thus far. Birsfield alleges that the company took his improvements before they were patented. The case was not finished at 3 p. m.

A. F. Bleckman, Jr., represents the plaintiff, while George Gordon and Mills Tourtellotte are appearing for the defendants.

MRS. THAW BIG CREDITOR.

Pittsburg, Aug. 18.—Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, through her attorney, this afternoon filed her claim against her son Harry amounting to $209,674.21. This is the first creditors' claim to be filed with Referee Blair and will, it is said, receive first attention in the bankruptcy proceedings. The claim is based on 25 notes held by her for sums ranging from $1,000 to $20,000 given by Harry. That, in the schedule of liabilities, gives the mother credit for $155,000. But Mrs. Thaw charges interest.

HANGS FOR MURDER

FRANKLIN, Penn., Aug. 18.—Mounting the scaffold without a tremor, Michael Holka was hanged today shortly before noon for the murder of Police Captain Edward Meehan. While attempting to place Holka and two companions under arrest November 23, 1907, Captain Meehan was shot in the back. Witnesses swore that Holka did the shooting, although he protested his innocence to the last.

MR. FOX SAYS CITY BROKE THE RECORD

RESOLUTIONS ARE PASSED

Waterway Improvement Is Given Enthusiastic O. K.—Fox Makes Convincing Address

"AGAIN THANKING YOU AND CONGRATULATING THE CITY OF LA CROSSE UPON A PROMPTNESS AND DISPATCH IN RESPONDING TO OUR CAUSE NEVER BEFORE EXPERIENCED IN MY ENTIRE TOUR OF THE COUNTRY, I REMAIN, From Director John A. Fox's Letter to Mayor Anderson.

La Crosse is for inland waterway improvement along the lines suggested by the National Rivers and Harbors congress, and members of the mass meeting held last night at the city hall today emphasized their earnest approval by breaking all records for prompt contribution to the support of the enterprise.

At the conclusion of the meeting last night the mayor was authorized by resolution to appoint a committee of five to solicit a $500 fund. He announced that with the consent of the meeting he would defer the appointment of the committee until today. During the forenoon Director Fox received the following letter from the mayor:

Mayor Surprises Fox.
"Aug. 18th, 1908, 10 a. m.
"John A. Fox, Esq., National Rivers and Harbors Congress, The Stoddard, La Crosse, Wis.
"Dear Sir: After the adoption of resolutions last evening, endorsing the efforts of the National Rivers and Harbors congress in promoting a systematic plan for carrying forward the work of waterways improvement to rapid completion, I was authorized, on motion of Congressman Esch to appoint a committee for the purpose of raising five hundred dollars ($500.00) to assist in the work and as an expression of the interest of La Crosse in the cause.

"I now have much pleasure in advising you that it will be unnecessary to appoint the committee above mentioned, as the amount stated has already subscribed in full.
"Please inform me what disposition I shall make of this fund and oblige,
"Yours very truly,
"WENDELL A. ANDERSON, Mayor."

Receives Prompt Reply
That Director Fox was surprised and de-lighted is shown by the following reply received by Mayor Anderson an hour after he had dispatched his letter to the former:
"The Stoddard, 11 a. m., Aug. 18th, 1908.
"Hon. Wendell A. Anderson, Mayor of La Crosse, Wis.
"Dear Sir: Your communication by special messenger has just been received, and I need hardly say, proves a most pleasant surprise and gratified me beyond expression.

"As director of our congress I am looked to to provide the sinews of war with which our campaign of education and enlightenment is carried on, and as the work of the organization is not yet sufficiently understood to cause commercial centers directly interested to send in their contribution voluntarily, I am compelled to personally make requests for these needed funds from various cities that I visit. I need not say that this is the most distasteful part of this great work, and often requires much of my time, sometimes subjecting me to considerable embarrassment.

"How can I then sufficiently express my thanks and appreciation of your generous and prompt response in behalf of the city of La Crosse to the request of our organization for financial assistance? I can only say that your city has set an example which if followed by the other cities of the United States would crown our efforts with success at the earliest possible moment.

"Please make the check out to J. F. Ellison, treasurer, and mail it to him at 204 E. Front Street, Cincinnati, Ohio. He will give your city full credit and will mail copies of (Continued on Page Six.)

THE TELEPHONE

AS A BUSINESS

The question of prices to be charged for telephone service is agitating hundreds of independent companies throughout the United States just now. With copper and other necessities retreating at very high prices profitable operation at the low rates offered some years ago has become virtually impossible. The original charges were wrongly based. Such companies as the Wisconsin Telephone Company have been less disturbed, though, of course, also somewhat affected by present prices of materials. But the Bell company of this state has all along insisted that a public service corporation is entitled to receive prices which will enable it to keep its plant in good working order, in order to maintain service of high efficiency, and to pay a fair return upon capital invested. This it believes is a prerequisite to selling satisfactory service. A telephone company, on its side, both for motives of self-interest and because of the duty which it owes its patrons, must treat the public with courtesy and consideration.

Gee, but this is a lonesome place—this third place in the pennant fight! Two games at this stage of the race means a lot in the per cent column. It wouldn't have been half so bad if it had been Rockford or some other second division team, but, getting handed two juicy lemons by Wausau, with not even their manager on the scene. The first one was swallowed all right, as that only broke even with the victory of Sunday, but when that second dose came it was unbearable and especially after the Colts had taken such a beautiful lead in the first inning.

The first game was a corker, but when they struck the thirteenth inning a hoodoo appeared and the unexpected happened, throwing away several points in the per cent division of the league standings. For thirteen innings Pitcher Frank Baillies and Big Dunbar fired back and forth, first the odds favoring one and then the other. The support of both pitchers was not up to the standard, but after the errors occurred they were as a rule followed by a line of brilliant and spectacular plays and several times both pitchers extricated themselves from holes that looked mighty desperate. There was one thing sure and that was Shortstop Becker had an off day, and it was decidedly to the bad. He positively refused to make a stop in the field and when he did it was only to fall all over himself and if he decided to peg the ball, as a rule it went wild. At bat he was a trifle worse. Only once did he redeem himself, this occurring in the twelfth inning, but at the time when his hit was needed it was not there and when he finally did come across with a swat at the ball the remaining teammates could not couple up and make it count.

When the game was called shortly after 2 o'clock Baillies was announced for La Crosse, while Bartos was spoken of as the opposing twirler. The reign of the latter was short and sweet. The first two men were given bases on balls and as he showed a great tendency of wildness, he was taken out and Big Dunbar sent in to replace him and if possible mend the trouble that appeared to confront the Lumberjacks. Dunbar was all to the good. He responded in good form and as the game rolled on he appeared to be getting stronger, and for thirteen innings of fast and furious ball, he allowed but four safe hits, and then in the thirteenth inning swatted the ball for a two bagger, practically winning his own game. It was a hard lost game, but nevertheless it was a great exhibition of work by Messrs. Baillies and Dunbar and a defeat for either did not mean they were not "there" until the last. When it came to pulling himself out of bad holes, caused by the downfall of his teammates, Baillies for the Colts certainly deserves considerable credit. Five times Becker either let the ball go by him or fell over himself, and this generally was followed by some other disaster that forced Baillies to get down and work hard. It was all over in the thirteenth, however. Dunbar was the first man to the plate and found the ball for two bases. Miller struck out, and Grodnick accepted a similar dose. This was followed by McAuley. Baillies started to give him a walk, but the "red-headed" man found the ball and sent it over second base scoring Dunbar and also bringing in the winning run. La Crosse had several chances to win the game in the early part, but either a hit was not forthcoming or theumps got mad at himself. Any way, they failed to cross the plate. The score:

Second Game.

After going down in the thirteen innings, the Colts after a rest of a few minutes went to the field to win lost laurels and incidentally again boost themselves in the per cent column. Their intentions were all right but they were unable to carry them out. The second game was, for the first few innings, about as poor an exhibition of baseball as has been seen on the diamond for some time. Baillies, who made an excellent showing in the first game, insisted on going in during the second and this proved disastrous to the team as well as himself. White Sox Lang occupied the slab for the Lumberjacks, and while he was pounded hard in the fourth inning, during the remainder of the time he was in grand form and held the Colts down to bed rock. La Crosse started out in the first inning and although they did not get a safe hit three bases on balls and a bad error resulted in three scores, and this was thought would be enough to win the game. It continued all right until the third inning, then Baillies weakened and four hits, a base on balls and an error by Becker gave them a lead of one. In the next inning Flynn went in the box and three hits resulted in two runs, and after that Hawley himself went in to put a stop to the slaughter. After Baillies had given Gardner a walk, Pink went in and had things coming his way until Brady hit to Hawley and when Pink tried to recover the ball he sank into the soft dirt and was overbalanced. When he threw the ball it went high and Bond could not grapple the sphere. Gardner hiked around with the score that resulted in the winning run. La Crosse evened matters in the third inning, when Flynn led off with a hit, and Duchien sent the ball to the fence for a triple which was followed by an error by Lang and later a hit by Killian tied the score. But they were beaten in the next inning by Wausau.

The game was called in the first half of the eighth on account of darkness, it being ten minutes past seven.

Healthy Happy Babies
Mother, you know the summer will be a trying time for your teething baby—a period of anxiety and sleepless nights for you unless you take the precaution to keep baby's system in condition to make teething easy.

Teethina (Teething Powders)

The prescription of Dr. C. J. Moffett, graduate of the Medical College, Philadelphia, contains elements recommended by the most advanced medical science. It removes the cause of disease and keeps the system in condition to make teething easy. For 14 years the standard remedy throughout the South, during the trying period of teething, colic, hives, etc., in children.

In nine out of ten cases of cholera infantum that prove fatal from ordinary neglect and subsequent treatment, the timely use of Teethina would have saved the child.

DOPE BOX.

The team left last night for Oshkosh where they will endeavor to take revenge on the Sawdust eaters. The attendance at the start was about 700, and at the end was several.

If they had only kept Bartos in the box!

If Becker had not missed so many and had got his two bagger, when it was needed!

If Baillies had not tried to work in the second game—also Flynn!

And if La Crosse had only won both games instead of Wausau!

Baillies had ten strike outs in the first game.

Jerry Harms was welcomed back into the game and played his good form with about two exceptions.

Lang was all smiles when he struck Pink out in the second game. He was even so joyous that he was nearly benched.

Manager Ferguson of the Lumberjacks was absent yesterday, being in the Twin cities, probably visiting a friend.

Bond played the second game in his usual good form.

Becker had an off day especially in the first inning.

The attendance yesterday was about 730, assisting materially for the grand total.

FREEPORT, Ill., Aug. 18.—Freeport lost the last game of the series 4 to 1. Harmon pitched good ball, an error by Ives in the first allowed two runs. Bubser was never in danger. Dolan's fielding was a feature. Score:

SUCCESSFUL MEETING.

The gathering of business men of La Crosse who last night assembled to listen to Mr. Fox's discussion of the inland waterway problem, was a fine representative body whose presence was a guarantee that the right thing would be done promptly and tactfully.

Of course it was. It was incumbent upon Mr. Fox to convince his listeners that his proposition had merit. He did so in no uncertain way. Avoiding the pitfall of attempting intricate and cumbersome detail, he drew a general outline of present conditions and future possibilities which was at once perspicuous and comprehensive. This was supplemented by an invitation to those present to ask questions on any point that seemed to need further elucidation, and when the "question box" was closed two hundred of La Crosse's leading citizens knew more about the waterway program—and had it in a nutshell—than they had ever known before.

Mr. Fox awoke very general enthusiasm in his talk, for he was enabled to show in a positive way that the establishment of slackwater transportation on the Mississippi would mean a great future for La Crosse, and the alacrity with which a little matter of financial contribution to the cause was disposed of by the mass meeting indicated that he had sunk his point home, and that La Crosse is for a comprehensive program for national inland waterways improvement.

TO LA CROSSE SWIMMERS

(Philadelphia Bulletin.)

"It isn't cramp," said a life guard, "that carries off so many good swimmers. After all, what is a leg or arm cramp? Couldn't a good swimmer easily turn on his back and float till the attack departed?"

"No, cramp won't account for the strange seizure that in a twinkling turns a very fish of a swimmer into a helpless, speechless, drowning paralytic. What accounts for this business is water-inhaling."

"A swimmer inhales spray through the nostrils, it passes through the pharynx, behind the epiglottis or windpipe guard, and so down into the windpipe. The result is merely certain death."

"Dr. E. P. Roach of Bath, Me., got water in the windpipe while bathing. He stood in water up to his chin, a ripple touched his nostrils and in an instant he found himself speechless and struggling for life. He was only ten feet from a raft or he'd have drowned. Reaching the raft, he fell flat. It was twelve minutes before he could either speak or move."

"Swallowing water does you no harm, but breathing it may kill you. How to avoid accidentally breathing it, though—that is a question nobody seems able to answer."

Mr. Fox, the able representative of the waterways congress who entertained and instructed a large audience last evening, would not weaken his presentation of the good case he makes for waterway improvement were he to eliminate that hardly relevant portion of his remarks which sounds to Wisconsin people a lot like a stalwart political speech. In his audience last night were many who agreed with him that government regulation of railroads is ultra vires and unjust; there were a still greater number who approve government regulation as it is advocated by La Follette, Roosevelt, Bryan or Taft. All Mr. Fox's auditors last night, whether for or against government control of railroads, are for waterway improvements, and he made no point with them by airing his views on a political problem, while he may have lost some of the fullness of confidence in his proposition by gratuitously flinging "demagoguery" at Senator La Follette and reformers who believe with him.

UNFAIR DISCRIMINATION.

(Indianapolis News.)
In spite of the refusal of the railroads to make a special rate to Lincoln today at the notification ceremony many thousand democrats were present, though they had, of course, to pay full fare. When Mr. Taft was notified of his nomination the railroads were, apparently, glad to make special rates to Cincinnati. Of course there was no good reason for such a discrimination. It was said by the representatives of the roads that it was impossible to make any concessions to the democrats for the reason that there was a 2-cent fare in Nebraska, and that no reduction had been permitted since the enactment of that fare law. But there is also a 2-cent fare law in Ohio. It was also urged that the Ohio case had been handled by a different traffic association from the one operating in Nebraska territory, and that the latter organization could not be governed by the action of the former. But it is believed that, as Chairman Mack says, "many of the railroads which compose the Central Traffic association are also members of the Western Traffic association."

The democrats who wished to go to Lincoln to see their candidate notified had as good a right to reduced rates as had the republicans who went to Cincinnati to see Taft notified. One traffic association had as much power as the other, one might have been expected to show as much courtesy as the other. There is no difference between the two cases. Much was made of the fact that there is a 2-cent fare law in Nebraska, and yet, as we have said, there is also a 2-cent fare law in Ohio. In the former case it was treated as an insuperable obstacle. In the latter case it was got over without difficulty. To any fair-minded man it looks like discrimination in favor of one class of citizens and against another class.

Of course, there must be some real reason—some reason not yet assigned—for this discrimination. Some will naturally argue that the "undesirable citizens" who are influential in railroad circles are more favorably disposed to the republicans than to the democrats. Indeed, that fact seems to stand out with great clearness. For favorable action must always be taken as evidence of a favorable disposition. So there remains the further question—what is the reason for this favorable disposition to the republican party and its candidate? The country ought to have all the light on this subject that it can get.

If Mr. La Follette had been nominated as the republican candidate, would there have been reduced rates offered to those desiring to attend the notification ceremonies? Probably not, for Wisconsin has a 2-cent fare law!

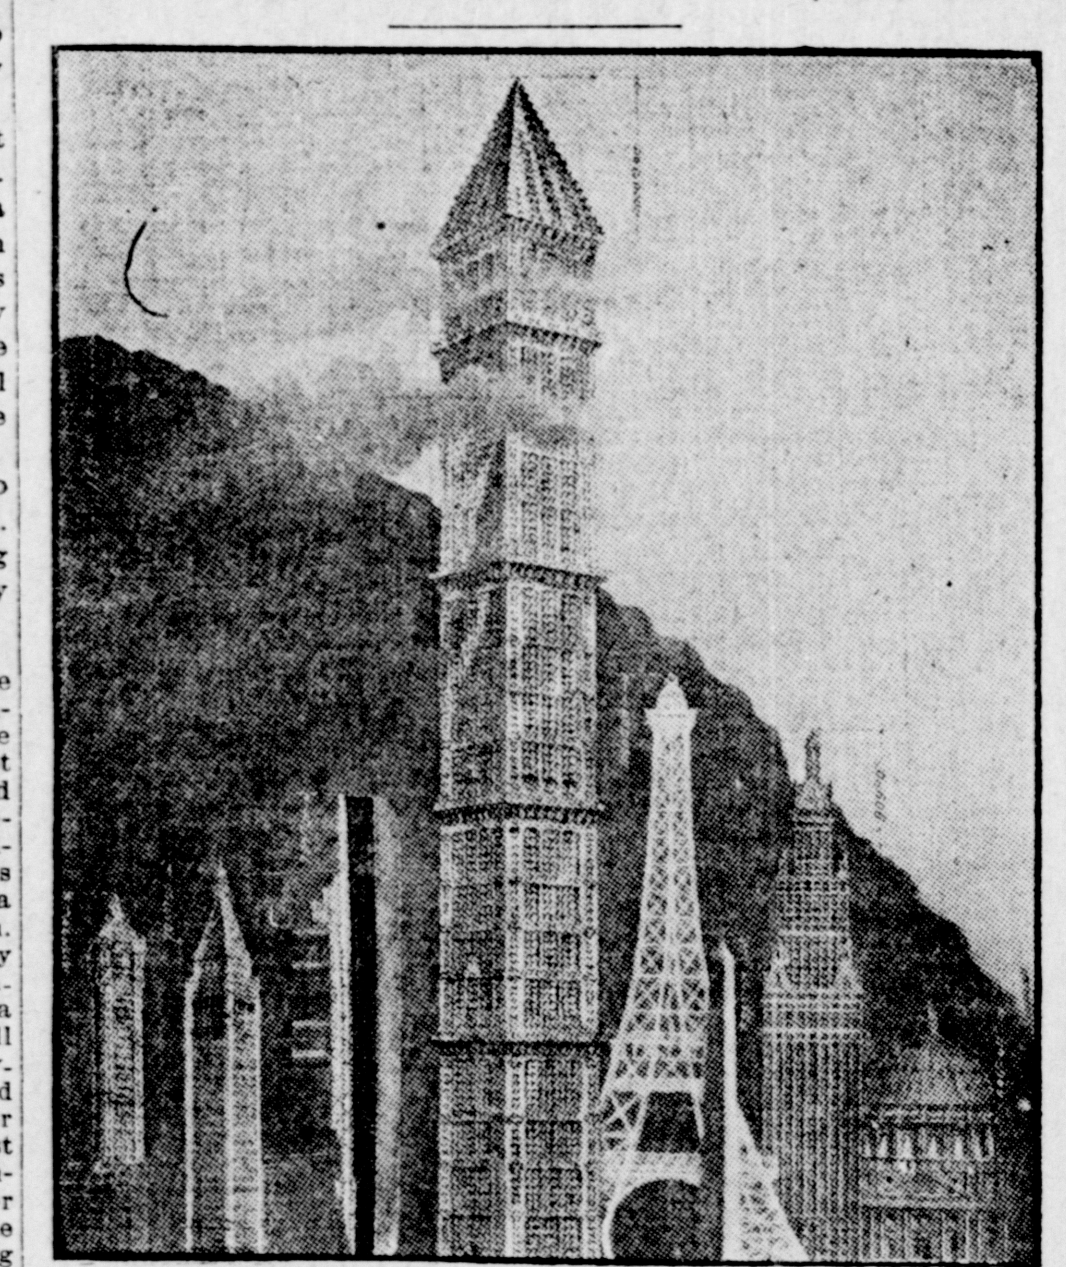

THE CENSUS OF 1790

(New York Times.)

The heads of families whose names adorn the pages of the first United States census of 1790, now for the first time published at Washington, were less than eight times as numerous as the army of 70,000 census takers that will be required to count the population of ninety millions in 1910. There were six persons in the average family, so that, exclusive of slaves, the total population in 1790 is set at 3,231,533. The schedules for the states of Delaware, Georgia, Kentucky, New Jersey, Tennessee and Virginia were destroyed when the British destroyed the capitol at Washington in the war of 1812, but the records of the rest of the colonial states are complete.

The cost of the first census was $44,377. For the census of 1910 it will be approximately $14,000,000, and the country is growing so tremendously that Director North predicts that it may thereafter require a complete enumeration every five years, instead of for each decennial period. The prevailing endeavor of the various architects of New York city to outstrip each other in the heights which they are attaining, leads to the inquiry as to where it will stop. According to the building code of New York city the maximum foundation pressure allowed is 15 tons per square foot. Without exceeding this it would be possible to erect on a lot 200 feet square the huge building shown above. This is 2,000 feet

Mr. Conklin smiled.
"We trainers," he said, "supped one night with a Scotch admirer. The old man was the soul of hospitality, but I admit I was rather startled when he leaned toward me and said: 'Stick in, man Conklin, stick in. Yer friend Coot's two muffins ahead o' ye.'—Washington Star.

CHAPTER XXIX.

The Spanish Stamp.

It was wonderful how like the mantle of Elijah out of the heaven, peace fell on the stricken village. Men coming from a distance found the widows cold, almost unsympathetic. Unsuspecting they were—to those who visited them thus casually. They declined to make a spectacle of their sorrow. But the ministers knew different—those who had seen to it that every week twenty shillings went into each stricken house. They encountered no hardness, ingratitude or lack of sympathy.

Only these Scottish widows were of the Scriptural opinion that the heart knoweth his own bitterness, and that a stranger intermeddled not therewith. Grave, quiet, as if making acknowledgment that these things came in the ordinary course of Providence—such were the leading characteristics of Kirktown's sorrow.

Pumping engines, newly erected for the long labour of emptying the No. 2, were already at work. The widows for the moment abode in their cottages in the long red-brick rows of Blocks K and L, but in the other pits the double shifts went to and fro as if nothing had happened.

No, nothing was forgotten. That is not Scottish wont. But, equally, nothing was said.

It was a brisk, bask, chillish day in the back end, late in November, with the wind blowing over Baltic ice, when Janet Fowler received her first letter from Spain. She knew it by instinct, though hitherto she had only seen the handwriting in scraps of calculations. The address on the envelope made her tremble.

It was breakfast time. Janet was in her place at the head of the table. Little Tim brought it in. He had heard the dog barking at the postman's uniform.

"I want the stamp," he cried. "Our Jenn has got a foreign letter. I want the stamp!"

"Me, too—give it me; you don't collect, you little beast, said his loving brother, Alfred, under his breath.

"Eh, what's that?" said Mr. Fowler, who was looking over the morning paper, which he used as a kind of counter-irritant for clarifying his thoughts on all subjects. If the Tartan thought one thing, he—John Fowler—generally felt himself pretty safe in believing exactly the opposite. He had lived a long and honorable life, directing himself thus. The Tartan's arguments, clever and brilliant at times, were seldom meant to be anything but irritating. Yet each morning dreamy John Fowler read the complete series of Tartan editorials in order to rouse within himself sufficient combativeness to think out arguments tending to directly opposite conclusions.

Now, if the boys had only been quiet, he would have subsided into the mental construction of a never-to-be-written sermon demolishing the third Tartan editorial. But, presently, they were all raging together, kicking each other furiously under the table, so much so that one stinging "chin-plaster" intended for Master Tim, caught his sister Violet, who nothing loath, lifted up her voice and wept.

John Fowler put down his paper. "What is the matter now?" he said, beaming mildly, through his spectacles. These were very round and gave him, in spite of his personal beauty, a slightly surprised though distinctly benevolent air.

Then Alf and Tim explained volubly that Janet (otherwise Jessie, the names being interchangeable in Scotland) had got a letter from Spain that morning, and that—that—
"But what has a letter from Spain or Kamechatka to do with Violet crying?" demanded the Rev. John Fowler.

"Because Alf—" began Tim.
"Because Tim—" riposted Alf.
"They are young fools, father," said Raif, who was busy with his second egg. "They are always kicking each other under the table. They don't mean any harm, and Vi was a goose to howl. All the same, I'll punch them when I get them out—after prayers."

There was a time for everything, and the Rev. John recognized his son's wisdom.
"Ah, do so!" said this sage parent.
He knew that, when you know your eldest son, there is no family chastisement so admirable. Your own authority should be but a threat—a sort of final court of appeal. The rest can be delegated to a wise elder son. Only, be sure of the first adjective.

"Well, about this letter, Janet?" said Mr. Fowler, looking at his daughter.
"It is from—from Mr. Vic. That is—I think—I believe that it is from Mr. Morris."

"Look at our Jess," said Alf, laughing out loudly and fraternally. Then in his pleasant way he held one of his fingers up to her cheek, and pretended that it went off with the "Ph-o-o-o" of a vesta match.

This was Master Alf's method of getting even; he was not particular as to whom he got even with. Certainly Janet had done him no wrong.
"Ah, let us hear it," said the Reverend John Fowler, laying down his paper. "I am glad he has written. I thought he would."

Now Janet would gladly have stolen away upstairs with her letter to read it in the quiet of her chamber. But, of course, her father's request was a command. Privately, however, she resolved to put the young lumps, who had brought this upon her, upon a very plain and even restricted diet for several days.

particular. There would be nothing in it, but still—it was her letter. She had, however, one resource.

"Do you think," she said, hesitatingly, "that these children—except, of course, Raif—"

She had got no farther when she was interrupted by a volley of cries to which even the still sobbing Violet added her quota.

"We don't want to hear your old letter—we don't! All we ask for was the stamp, and that has big black bars across it."
"Silence!" said the Reverend John, his eyes sparkling through the benevolent round goggles, and the Absalom hair waving with the up-thrust of his head. "If I hear a word more out of your mouths, I shall have you all up into the study—to do deductions!"

"Don't worry, father," said Raif without looking up from his plate, "that will only give you a headache. Leave them to me—after prayers!"

And with this promise (or threat) the reading of the letter was postponed. Of course, it did not really amount to much—Janet made sure of this before she brought it to a public reading. Certain parts she even altered slightly, and one she left entirely out. Not that any of these were altered or amended for the usual reason for which young women edit male letters for home consumption.

Here, however, is Vic Morris's letter without amendment or change:

"Hotel Colon Huelsa, Spain, October 22.

"Dear Miss Fowler,—I am obliged, indeed, for all the care you must have taken to get my traps off on the first of our steamers to come out here. Everything was right, and this I owe entirely to your good offices. I trust you will not think I have shown myself ungrateful, either to your father or yourself—to your father for welcoming the coming, to you for speeding the parting guest."

"I have now been up at Rio Tinto nearly a month and have taken hold pretty well. I ran down to stay over a week-end in the charming hotel here, which I understand belongs to the company—also to see my trunks through the customs. All the formalities have now been gone through, and I am several crowns the poorer—thanks to the useful but impoverishing system of bribery and corruption which obtains here."

"But up at the mines I shall have to put my foot down, I can see. And I am told that if I do, some of these dusky-skinned rascals will think nothing of putting a knife into me. Still, every job has its risks, and on these sierras one is no more likely than anywhere else to meet 'the Stranger waiting on the waste.'"

"Now, I am not going to preach. I couldn't, at any rate. Your father will call this rank fatalism; but it is a sound, healthy (if not hearty) belief to carry round with a fellow into strange places—that a man can't die before his clock strikes the hour. If he says different, tell him from me to preach next Sunday from the text, 'My time is not yet come.'"

Here John Fowler laughed a little, and shook his head, murmuring, "A little knowledge of Scripture is a dangerous thing. He forgets the context: 'But your time is always ready!'"

For practice each morning with The Tartan editorials had made him a very dangerous adversary in argument. Janet read on without entering into this, while her father continued to chuckle. Raif lounged on the sofa and petted the fox-terrier. He had just returned from having "a few words with the kids" on the back-green—as he had promised "after prayers." It is always well to take a little exercise of a morning.

"But so far I have seen nothing of all this (the letter continued). Everyone has been kind and easy to get on with. I have had no need to show my teeth or the men their ten-inch knives. If you, or your part, will enlighten me on the doings at Kirktown since that morning when you gave me breakfast, and I slipped away into another world by the 6:10 a. m. train, you will do me a great service."

"How is Old Dick up at the Glebe lodge, and Miss Bryan. Please remember me to them. I hope she was none the worse of her rough handling in the pit?"

"Not a bit—not a bit!" said the minister. "I saw her yesterday—prettier than ever. I always call it I pass by, though they are Irongray's people. You have my authority for reassuring him on that point."

As her father continued to manifest an unwelcome and pointless tendency to enlarge on the beauty and health of Miss Bryan, Janet shut him down with a snap as if he had been the lid of a box, and proceeded with the next sentence. Raif impassively caressed the fox-terrier, which feigned its usual catlike indifference.

Perilous Position

Otto Mittelbach lies at his home, 306 Rose street, believing that he is a mighty lucky man that he was not suffocated yesterday when buried in the sand at Indian Hill. Mr. Mittelbach, who is about 24 years of age, is a painter, but had taken temporary employment with the steam shovel crew at Indian Hill. He was standing to one side of the steam shovel when a portion of the sand above him caved on him, burying his legs, and imprisoning him. Later another cave-in buried him to the shoulders, rendering him helpless and bending his body until he suffered a serious strain of the back. Had not a fellow workman rescued Mr. Mittelbach from his position, it is likely another cave-in of the sand which was being loosened, would have suffocated the young man.

START REMODELING
OF ROUNDHOUSE

The work on the addition to the Milwaukee roundhouse was commenced this morning. The improvement will make twelve stalls 23 feet longer, making room for the big engines that the company is now using. It is expected that the work will cost between $25,000 and $30,000. The engines will be able to head into the new house instead of backing in, as they do at present. The work will last about four months and provide employment for a considerable number of men.

The present stalls are 65 feet long and making the new ones 88 feet long will enable them to accommodate any locomotive used by the company. The office will be torn out first and the work on the roundhouse proper commence afterward. The work will hinder the employees somewhat in handling the engines during the rush, but not enough to cause a delay.

THE REINCARNATION OF SAVAGE WARFARE

If you want to know just what the embattled border struggles to the death between the white and the red men really were and looked like, without risking your scalp, visit Col. Cody's (Buffalo Bill) and his Wild West and Congress of Rough Riders of the World and take in the stupendous spectacular and scenic re-enactment of the Battle of Summit Spring, in which Colonel Cody played a most important part as Chief of Scouts and slayer of Tall Bull, and in the correct presentation of which General Carr, who commanded the pursuing and attacking U. S. Cavalry and friendly Pawnees, and other regular army officers have taken so much interest as to furnish official details, attend the exhibition in numbers in New York, Washington and Chicago, giving it praise as a picture with atmosphere and action of reality. You will leave the colossal arena in which this famous fight is so realistically renewed with impressions vivid enough to endure for a lifetime.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 18.—Maddened by pain caused by flames which enveloped her body, Mrs. Fannie Dudovitz leaped through a window of her home following the flight of her ten-year-old daughter, Eva, through the same exit, leaving a two-year-old child in the room in which the flames were raging. J. O'Connor rushed into the house and carried the child to a place of safety.

Mrs. Dudovitz sank into unconsciousness before she had learned that her child had been saved by the heroic act.

The woman was horribly burned about the hands, the flesh in some places being charred. Her face, back and feet were also burned and blistered.

LA CROSSE TO SEND
THREE DELEGATES

The annual convention of the Wisconsin League of Municipalities is to be held this year on Sept. 2, 3 and 4 at Oconomowoc, Wis. The annual conventions of this well known organization have been growing in interest year by year, and the league has come to be recognized as a very important factor in the uplifting of the standard of municipal government in Wisconsin and in aiding city officials in a more intelligent settlement of the complex problems that beset them. The city officials generally all over the state attend these conventions and the program for this year is an especially strong one. One feature of especial interest to the officials of the larger cities of Wisconsin will be the address upon the "Public Utilities" by Professor B. H.
Meyer, chairman of the railroad commission at Madison. Since the law has been enacted including the public service corporations of the state of Wisconsin under the control of the railroad commission, an address from Professor Meyer on this question will be especially helpful to municipal officers in Wisconsin.

Another feature of the meeting will be illustrated lectures; there being five of these by noted experts from the east and west.

The business men's association of Oconomowoc is planning on making the coming of the city officers a social feature, as they have planned considerable entertainment and the officers of the league hope that city councils everywhere throughout the state will elect good sized delegations to attend the convention.

La Crosse will send three delegates to the convention, Mayor Anderson having been authorized to appoint three aldermen, by the council meeting Friday night.

BLACKHANDER ARRESTED.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Vincent Prapa, an Italian, was arrested this morning on the charge of making a "Black Hand" demand on Vendetto Cairo, a grocer. Prapa, wearing a long mask, was found hiding in a clump of bushes near where he demanded that $1,000 be left in a cigar box. He pleaded with the detectives making the arrest to shoot him.

WEST POINTERS AT WILD WEST SHOW

The unusual compliment of the graduating class at West Point being ordered to visit Col. Cody's exhibition this spring at Madison Square Garden is a striking evidence of the estimation in which it is held by experienced U. S. Army officers.

The Army and Navy Journal says:
"While the majority of people who go to see 'Buffalo Bill's Wild West' look upon it merely as a show, the Cadets of the West Point U. S. Military Academy who had the good fortune to see it recently in New York, appreciated the fact that they were given an opportunity to see a reproduction of a phase of Western Life that has now passed into history. To them it was not a show that appeared, but the history that the show portrays.

Colonel Cody himself was so intimately connected with the Army of the West in its Indian campaigns, and was so important a factor in many of its most notable achievements, that he will forever be held by the Army of the United States in the same high esteem that he is now held, especially by those who fought with him on the plains."

ITALIAN BESTOWS
GIFTS ON JUDGE

For a wedding tour a trip about the surrounding country in a big auto was the novelty planned by August Coraggio, who Saturday afternoon was married by Judge Brindley to Mrs. Bertha Southerland of this city.

Coraggio, his bride-to-be and friends were whirled to the courthouse in the machines Saturday afternoon and the wedding was soon negotiated. After the ceremony was finished County Judge John Brindley was presented with a large box of candy and nuts together with a box of fine cigars. He also received a handsome fee in the form of a gold piece.

Shouting an invitation to the crowd that was in the office to "come and enjoy da gooda time" to be had at his house, Sunday, Coraggio and his bride entered the machine and were taken for a long drive about the city and into the country. They returned to the bride's home near the normal school, where a feast was prepared.

BLATTA
FOETORA
INVISIA

Also called Cimex by the old Romans, is one of the most bloodthirsty animals known. Fortunately it's only of small size, otherwise it would be a dangerous foe to mankind.

As it is, it's one of the most troublesome house companions commonly known as Bedbug, keeping the lady of the house pretty busy trying to get rid of it.

Now sometime ago I discovered an entirely new remedy for this pest, which seems to be the most destructive thing yet found. I called it BUG-BANG, and with it you can clear the premises in less than no time, as it destroys the enemy and his following right in their tracks. It comes in 25c bottles and is a wonder.

GASHES HEAD IN FALL ON ROCKS

While strolling through Pettibone Park Sunday afternoon O. C. Johnson, a shoemaker residing on South Third street, accidentally fell down the embankment, cutting a bad gash in the back of his head. Several men near the scene rushed to Mr.
Johnson's aid, and the police patrol was called, taking the injured man to the central station, where Dr. J.
A. Reese was called and dressed his wounds. It was necessary to take several stitches to close the gash in his head. He was later removed to his home where he is resting easy today.

Ten Years in Bed

"For ten years I was confined to my bed with disease of my kidneys," writes R. A. Gray, J. P. of Oakville, Ind. "It was so severe that I could not move part of the same. I consulted the very best medical skill available, but could get no relief until Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended to me. It has been a Godsend to me." O. T. Erhart.

HEARING OF ASSASSIN.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—
Wan Cheang, a Korean, charged with the assassination of Durham White Stevens, an American diplomat at the Japanese court, while on a visit here March 25, was arraigned before Judge Conley Monday morning. Trial is set for September 21. At the time Stevens was murdered, the Korans accused him of dictating Japanese policy in Korea.

MISSOURI FOR BRYAN.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Congressman Champ Clark, of Missouri, who was the principal visitor of the day at the democratic national headquarters, predicted Bryan would carry Missouri by a good majority.

"There is a big democratic upheaval throughout the state," he said, "and I am sure the reaction will entirely knock out the republican majority rolled up for Roosevelt."

Clark is conferring with Mack and others on plans for the campaign in Missouri.

Mrs. Mary Burke of Clinton was a guest of friends in La Crosse for the

THE ETERNAL PROBLEM.

"What am I going to do?" If you are in this state of mind you had better get busy, that's the main thing.
If you cannot do what you want to, get in line with rest of us and do what you have to, and the first thing is not to be a parasite, but a producer. The percentage of successful graduates who are earning big salaries and who are placed every year, proves that you cannot fail if you follow our instructions, regardless of wise saws about one succeeding regardless of the school, the education, etc. For some reason 90 per cent of men fail, and for some reason 90 per cent of Toland's graduates succeed. Try your saws and logic on that.

CONTINUATION OF WASHINGTON ROW

Mrs. Tilday Halderson of the town of Washington has brought suit against her neighbor, Mrs. Oehler and Henry Rhodenberg, who is employed at the Oehler farm, to recover damages on a horse which she claims was injured through the efforts of the Oehler family.

In the complaint it is alleged that Henry Rhodenberg with one "lous haired, yellowish brown dog, the property of Mrs. Oehler," came into the pasture on the Halderson farm and chased a two year old horse pastured there about the grounds and finally ended by driving the horse into a barb wire fence. The horse was severely cut, and according to testimony of the plaintiff was so effected that it is of little value now.

Attorneys Wolfe and Wolfe are appearing for the defendant while Attorney Bosshard is for the plaintiff.

JOHN KAISER IS KILLED BY ENGINE

AGED LABORER STRUCK WHILE GOING TO WORK

BODY REMOVED ON ENGINE

Old Man Fails to Regain Consciousness and Corpse Is Taken to Undertaker

John Kaiser, aged 65, residing at 2420 Dayton street, was killed by a switch engine at Grand Crossing this morning.

Kaiser, who was a laborer and had just started to work was between the cars when the switch engine bumped the bunch, knocking Kaiser under the wheels and cutting off both legs and badly dismembering him. Dr. Suiter was notified and the ambulance called. The switch engine took the injured man down to St. James street where it met the ambulance.

The victim expired 5 minutes later without regaining consciousness, and the body was removed to Dwyer's undertaking establishment.

The deceased has a number of relatives in the city who will take charge of the remains. The funeral announcement will be made later.

Men Past Sixty in Danger

More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of prostate glands. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett, Rockport, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for twenty years, although I am now 91 years old." O. T. Erhart.

CITY TO PUT IN CEMENT SIDEWALKS

In compliance with the orders of the common council the board of public works this morning sent notices to contractors of the advertisement of bids for unfinished walks. Some time ago the council ordered walks on a number of streets in the city and gave until August 15th to complete the work. A number of them have not been laid and the board this morning offered bids for the walks on the east side of Sixteenth street from Main to Pine, Vine street from Sixteenth to Seventeenth, east side of Seventeenth from Main to Johnson, Seventh from Main to State, west side of Seventeenth from Main to Johnson and Thirteenth street from Johnson to Farnham, Sixteenth from Johnson to Adams, south side of State street from Sixteenth to the railroad crossing and on the south side of Cass street from Fifteenth to the Green Bay tracks.

Unless the work is done immediately by the property owners the city will have the work done and charged to the abutting property.

SKAAR UNDECIDED ON SENATORSHIP

Attorney O. R. Skaar of this city has been asked by leading democrats about the county and has received several communications from Trempealeau county urging him to run for the state senate against the present incumbent, Thomas Morris. The most recent letter was from Trempealeau county and in this he was assured the support of the democracy in that county.

"I have made no decision on the matter whatever," said Mr. Skaar today. "and have no idea what I will do. I hardly think I can afford the time away from my work. Just what I will do, I am not sure."

the proceedings and transactions of the organization to any of your citizens that may be interested in the matter.

"Again thanking you and congratulating the city of La Crosse upon a promptness and dispatch in responding to our cause never before experienced in my entire tour of the country, I remain,

"JOHN A. FOX, "Special Director."

Beats All Records

Where the money came from is a secret upon which Dr. Anderson has nothing to say, although the guessers have them all "spotted." The essential fact is that progressive citizens came to the mayor's side with what was wanted with promptness, which inspired Mr. Fox's glad exclamation that it beat all records, and Mr. Fox has been doing this work for a long time. No doubt the members of congress will in the future know La Crosse as the city that raised its funds in support of the waterways over a telephone in 10 minutes.

Most Representative Body

The mass meeting last night was probably the most representative body of substantial business men ever gathered in La Crosse upon a like occasion, a scanning of the audience showing the presence of such men as Congressman John J. Esch, Lucius Colman, Attorney W. F. Wolfe, William Doerflinger, J. C. Burns, L. F. Easton, Captain W. A. Thompson, J. M. Hixon, L. F. Easton, Senator Thomas Morris, J. H. Moulton, R. L. Richards, J. B. Fank, W. W. Cargill, George W. Burton, E. L. Colman, Dr. E. A. Gatterdam, Dr. Collier, Hiram Gaddard, Alderman Harry Hirsch, J. S. Medary, J. E. McConnell, Alderman Keller, George Falk, Henry J. Beckwith, Judge John Brindley, and many other prominent and influential citizens.

Room Was Inadequate.

The meeting had been called for the small council chamber, but at 8 o'clock that room was full and the halls and stairways were crowded with people, so all were invited to enter the regular council chamber, the crowd filling it nearly to its full seating capacity.

After listening to the address of Mr. Fox, the meeting passed resolutions approving and pledging support to the waterways congress, and providing for the contribution of a $500 fund to the cause, the money to be raised by subscription. Alderman Keller's suggestion that the council appropriate the money was opposed by Alderman Downs on a point of law, but was finally passed by a vote unanimous but for Downs' dissent.

Mayor Anderson announced in reply to a question that he would appoint the committee, just the same, a plan which met with approval, as there was evident a feeling among the members that the private subscription plan was, if not the better, the safer one.

After briefly outlining the purposes for which the meeting was called, and thanking those present for their attendance and the declared was gratifying indeed. Mayor Anderson introduced the speaker, Mr. John A. Fox, special director of the congress.

Gives Brief History

The remarks of Mr. Fox were opened with a brief but interesting history of the early navigation of the river—how in the early days it was the sole means of transportation and inter-communication and it was then necessary to keep the river as free from shifting bars as possible. In 1828, said Mr. Fox, the first steps were taken by the government to keep the rivers in shape and a system of 1800 miles was made available. In 1856 it became certain that the railroads were competent to carry the large amount of traffic in the country and from that date to the present the rivers have been sadly neglected according to Mr. Fox. As a result of this neglect the river beds have filled and with the land denuded of trees the distribution of rainfall is irregular with the result that for three months in the year the rivers raise to almost flood stage and then drop to the present stage where it is almost impossible for the big boats to navigate.

Railroads Unable to Meet Situation

The railroads are unable to cope with the increase in the traffic, he says, and in the past 20 years the raw products have grown 261 per cent while during the same time the car-

CHARGE ROBBERIES TO HARRY LEE

YOUNG MAN IS NABBED BY THE POLICE

THEY DECIDE HE'S A CROOK

Say a Large Number of Robberies Can be Traced to Him and Will Use His Admissions as Evidence

Harry Lee, aged 16 years and residing at 1608 Mississippi street, was arrested last evening by Detectives McGraw and Wendling on the charge of larceny from William Newburg, a farmer residing about a mile outside the city limits. He will be arraigned before Judge Brindley probably this afternoon.

Young Lee has not been apprehended by the police before but is now in the battle and the police are investigating his record. "We already know," said Chief Weber this morning, "of four robberies committed by young Lee, all of them having occurred during the last few months. During that time the police have been unable to apprehend the guilty parties, but we are certain Lee was the guilty one."

The last theft for which Lee will be made to answer, occurred yesterday afternoon. About a year ago the boy worked on the farm of Newburg east of the city and yesterday he went to the farm and when every one of the house was out in the fields he helped himself to a gold watch and gold fob, according to the police. After making his escape he brought the loot to the city and sold it to a local jeweler for $2.00. Then proceeding to the vicinity of his home in Hungry Point, he spent money lavishly.

For the past several weeks the police have received repeated reports of small robberies in the residence section, including stealing of pocketbooks with cash amounting to from $1 to $10, and other thefts. When Lee was cross-examined at the station this morning the police practically decided that he was guilty of a number of the robberies. They will bring his own evidence against him at his trial.

GEORGE HODGE IS HURT BY HORSE

George Hodge, candidate for the republican nomination for sheriff, and formerly well known livery man, last evening sustained a severely strained back as a result of his horse, which he was driving, becoming frightened at an automobile. Mr. Hodge was standing near the buggy holding the reins when an auto passed and frightened the horse. The horse reared and threw Mr. Hodge to the brick paving. The accident occurred near the corner of Fourth and Main and his son, who was near the scene, assisted his father to his home where he is resting easily today.

For the accommodation of out of town visitors, Woolworth's 5c and 10c stores, 121 South Fourth street, will be open Wednesday afternoon.

rying facilities have been increased but 43 per cent.

The surest, safest, and the most same way to regulate railroads is, according to Mr. Fox, the development of the waterways of the country. There are 45,000 miles of waterways in the country that can be made fit for navigation.

All told, to date, the United States has spent in river improvement, $523,000,000, while Germany, Belgium, France and other European countries have spent many times that amount in a much shorter time on areas not larger than a single state of the United States. He showed where the money had been spent, spasmodically, in the United States. The entire cost of making every river in the United States, of any importance, deep enough, broad enough and to establish a uniform stage the year around Mr. Fox estimates at but $500,000,000 and in one year the freight payers of the country would be saved $189,000,000 by the cheaper rates made possible.

Railroads Vs. Water

The great difference between rail and water routes in the freight charges were cited by Mr. Fox. The average cost of transporting one ton of freight 1,000 miles by rail is $7.50. On the great lakes a ton of freight can be carried one mile for eight-tenths of one mill, on the Ohio river for 76 hundredths of a mill, on the Missouri for 67 hundredths. On the eastern group of railroads it costs 5.7 to transport this same freight, on the railroad parallel to the Mississippi 5.9 mill, on the southeastern railroads 7.1 mills; while on the southwestern railroads, where there is no possibility of water competition, the rate is 8.7 mills. Where there are no waterways in the trans-continental service offered by the railroads, the charge averages 9.4 mill.

For $20,000,000 the Mississippi river could be canalized, said Mr. Fox, if this was spent annually over a period of ten years. In case this was done and a system of slackwater navigation were established, coal could be brought down the Ohio and the consumer in La Crosse at $3.00 per ton, while they are now paying between $6.50 and $9.50 per ton. Cotton could be brought to La Crosse from the south, he asserted, and manufactured cheaper here than there if the river was canalized. This he claimed was due to the good labor condition existing here and the existence of water power.

S.S.S. CURES OLD SORES

No old sore can heal until the cause which produces it has been removed. External applications of salves, washes, lotions, etc., may reduce the inflammation and assist in keeping the place clean, but cannot cure the trouble because they do not reach its source. Old sores exist because the blood is infected with impurities and poisons which are constantly being discharged into the place. The nerves, tissues and fibres of the flesh are kept in a state of irritation and disease by being daily fed with the germ-laden matter through the circulation, making it impossible for the sore to heal. S. S. S. cures chronic sores by its purifying action on the blood. It goes down into the circulation, and removes the poison-producing germs, impurities and morbid matters which are responsible for the failure of the place to heal. S. S. S. makes the blood pure, fresh and healthy; then as new, rich blood is carried to the spot the healing process begins, all discharge ceases, the inflammation leaves, new tissue begins to form, the flesh fills in with firm, healthy flesh, and soon the sore is permanently cured. S. S. S. is purely vegetable, the safest and best blood purifier for young or old. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

DECLARES THAT HE'S A PROTECTIONIST

minee, National Chairman Hitchcock and others prominent in the councils of the party. An assemblage numbering ten thousand crowded about. The police arrangements were ample and there was no untoward incident.

Sherman's Speech.

Addressing Sherman, Burrows made his notification speech, to which Sherman replied as follows: "Senator Burrows and gentlemen of the national committee:

"Your chairman, speaking for the committee, has notified me of my nomination by the republican national convention, held in Chicago, in June, as the party's candidate for vice president. As I chanced to be in Chicago in June, I had an inkling of the convention's action, which was confirmed by a warm-hearted reception tendered me by my neighbors on the occasion of my homecoming on July 2. This official notification, however, is welcome, and the nomination you tender me is accepted with a gratitude commensurate with the great honor conferred; accepted with a full appreciation of the obligations which accompany that honor, an honor greater because my name is linked with that of William H. Taft, whom I respect and esteem highly and who approaches the high office of president exceptionally well equipped to discharge the duties, and bear the varied weighty responsibilities of that exalted position. My acceptance could not be made with honor unless I were in full accord with the declaration of principles adopted by the convention. Not only am I in full and complete accord with my party's platform, but I endorse every statement made by Mr. Taft in his address of acceptance when notified of his nomination as the republican candidate for president.

"That speech fully and comprehensively discusses the issues of this campaign as presented by the platforms of the two great parties, so that it is appropriate that my statement should be short. Those not convinced by the presentation of Mr. Taft I could not hope to persuade. It is, however, in conformity with custom that I refer at least briefly to some of the important issues of the campaign.

Is a Protectionist

"First, then, let me say that I am a protectionist, I am sufficiently practical to value the utility of a fact higher than the beauty of a theory, and I am a protectionist because experience has demonstrated that the application of that principle has lifted us as a nation to a place of prosperity above that occupied by any other people.

Favors Tariff Revision

"I especially commend that plank of our platform which promises an early revision of tariff schedules. That pledge will be fulfilled in adjustment based in every particular upon the broad principles of protection for all American interests, alike for labor, for capital, for producers and consumers. The Dingley bill when enacted was well adapted to then existing conditions. The developments of industrial prosperity in a decade, which in volume and degree have surpassed our most rosy expectations, have so altered conditions that in certain details of schedules they no longer in every particular meet out justice to all. In this readjustment the principle of protection must and will govern; such duties must and will be imposed as will equalize the cost of production at home and abroad, and insure a reasonable profit to all American interests. The republican idea of such a profit embraces not alone the manufacturer, not alone the capital investor, but all engaged in American production, the employer and employee, the artisan, the farmer, the miner and those engaged in transportation and trade; broadly speaking, those engaged in every pursuit and calling which our tariff directly or indirectly affects. During a statutory application of this principle, prosperity has abided with us. When a revenue tariff has been the law, adversity and want have been our portion. Our democratic brethren, whose memories are as short as their promises are frail, and who have always exhibited a lack of capacity to profit by experience, unmindful of the distress and destruction that arrived and departed with the last democratic administration, declare in their platform that they favor such 'immediate revision of . . . schedules as may be necessary to restore the tariff to a revenue basis.' A 'revenue basis,' a 'tariff for revenue only,' 'ultimate free trade'—all have an identical meaning; that meaning being an assault upon American industries, an attack upon the American wage scale, a lessening demand upon the products of American soil and American toil; less work, less pay, less of the necessities and of comforts of life. In the light of history, what issue of the campaign so vitally affects American citizens? Experience, that effective teacher—effective save with the one man, power, now under the title of the democratic party—has taught the nation a valuable lesson, and the result of the coming November election will once more prove the American people to be apt scholars. What the laborer of the land, skilled and unskilled, desires is the opportunity at all times to exchange his brain and brawn for good pay in good money. A protective tariff and the gold standard, both now the existing achievements of the republican party, in spite of democratic opposition, give the laborer that opportunity.

Equality of All Men

"The republican party believes in the equality of all men before the law; believes in granting labor's every right that does not seek to accord rights to one man denied to another. Fair minded labor asks no more, not less, and approves the record of the republican because of that party's acts.

"I have helped to make my party's record in the enactment of the eight-hour law, the employers' liability act, the statutes to minimize the hazard of railroad employees, the child labor law for the District of Columbia, and other enactments designed especially to improve the conditions of labor. I cannot hope to better state my position on injunctions than by a specific endorsement of Mr. Taft's declaration on that subject. That endorsement I make.

Advancement of Negroes.

"As a nation our duty compels that by every constitutional and reasonable means the material and educational condition of the colored race be advanced. This we owe to ourselves as well as to them. As the result of a course of events that can never be reversed, they are a part of our civilization; their prosperity is our prosperity; their debasement would be our misfortune. The republican party, therefore, will offer every encouragement to the thrift, industry and intelligence that will better their prospect of higher attainment.

Maintenance of Army and Navy.

"I believe in the maintenance of such an army, the upbuilding of such a navy as will be the guarantee of the protection of American citizens and American interests everywhere, and an omen of peace; that at every exposed point we may be so fortified that no power on earth may be tempted to molest us. I believe in the restoration of the American merchant marine and in rendering whatever financial aid may be necessary to accomplish this purpose.

Conservation of Natural Resources.

"I approve the movement for the conservation of our natural resources; the fostering of friendly foreign relations; the enforcement of our civil service law, and the enactment of such statutes as will more securely and more effectively preserve the public health.

Adherence to Roosevelt Policies.

"Our platform, as it should of predict, adheres to the policies of President Roosevelt; promises to continue the work inaugurated during his administration, to insure to persons and property every proper safeguard and all necessary strengthening of administrative methods will be provided to furnish efficient inspection and supervision, and prompt righting of every injustice, discrimination and wrong.

No Favoritism.

"I emphasize as my party's creed and my faith that in legislation and administration favor should be extended to no class, no sect, no race, no section as opposed to another. To foster class hatred, to foster discontent, is un-republican and un-American. Our party stands on the declaration that all men are created with equal rights, and it will have no part in the enactment or execution of any law that does not apply alike to all good American citizens; whatever their calling or wherever they live. It will allow no man in our land to have advantage in law over any other man. It offers no safeguard to capital that is not guaranteed to labor; no protection to the workman that is not insured to his employer. It would offer to each and to both in pursuit of health and happiness and prosperity every possible advantage.

Instrument of the People's Will.

"The work that has been given the republican party to do has been of immense importance. Much of that work has been fully accomplished; some has yet to be completed. Republican declarations once in our platform and no longer there are omitted because they have become accomplished facts. On the other hand, democratic declarations have been abandoned because the voters have pronounced them to be unwise and unsafe and unsuited to our times and our country.

Shall the people rule?

"Shall the democratic party and candidate be the overshadowing issue . . . now under discussion. It is no issue. Surely the people shall rule, surely the people have ruled, surely the people do rule. No party rules. The party commissioned by the people is simply the instrument to execute the people's will, and from that party which does not obey their expressed will, or which lacks the wisdom to lead successfully, the people will withdraw their commission.

Principles Appeal to People.

"For half a century, with but two exceptions, the people have commissioned the republican party to administer the national government, commissioned it because its declared principles appealed to their best judgment; commissioned it because common sense of the American people scented danger in democratic policies. Ours always has been, always must be, a government of the people. That party will, after March 4 next, execute old laws and enact new ones as in November it is commissioned by the people to do. That commission will be from an untrammeled American electorate. Shame on the party which—shame on the candidate who—insults the American people by suggestion or declaration that a majority of its electorate is venal. The American voter, with rare exceptions, in casting his ballot, is guided by his best judgment, by his desire to conserve his own and the public weal.

Real Issue of the Campaign.

"The overshadowing issue of the campaign really is: Shall the administration of President Roosevelt be approved? Shall a party of demonstrated capacity in administrative affairs be continued in power? Shall the reins of government be placed in experienced hands, or do the people prefer to trust their destinies to an aggregation of experimental malcontents and theorists, whose only claim to a history is a party name they pilfered?

With a record of four decades of wise legislation; two score years of faithful administration; offering its fulfilled pledges as a guaranty of its promises for the future, the republican party appeals to the people and with full confidence in their wisdom and patriotism awaits the rendition of the November verdict.

WINONA IS READY FOR THE VETERANS

ARRANGEMENTS FOR CONVENTION ARE COMPLETED

TO CONVE NE TOMORROW

Spanish-American War Association to Hold Annual Meeting—Elaborate Entertainment for Visitors

WINONA, Minn., Aug. 18.—The Spanish-American War Veterans' association of the state will meet here Wednesday in annual convention. The Twin cities will send large delegations, as will Duluth, Crookston, Fergus Falls, Red Wing and other places in Minnesota and La Crosse, Wis.

The visitors on arrival will be met at the train and escorted to G. A. R. hall, which will be the convention headquarters. Dinner will be served there by the ladies' auxiliary, and after this a short program will be carried out preceding the business session.

After short introductory remarks by A. J. Rick, camp commander, the address of welcome will be delivered by Mayor E. S. Muir of this city, with a response by P. Miller, department commander.

The address of welcome to the visiting ladies will be made by Mrs. Miller, president of the Winona Ladies' auxiliary and the response by Mrs. Isis B. Olson of St. Paul, president of the Minnesota auxiliary. Appropriate music is to be provided.

The remainder of the afternoon will be given over to the business session, and the exercises of the evening will begin with a parade through the business streets to Philharmonic hall. A band and a bugle corps will furnish music and all local organizations of a military character will participate.

Elaborate decorations are to be made along the line of march. The exercises of the day and the close of the convention will come in a grand ball at Philharmonic hall.

OLD WOMAN SLAIN BY MURDERER'S KNIFE

DULUTH, Minn., Aug. 18.—Mrs. George Cochran, aged seventy-one years, was murdered last night in the front yard of her own residence in Grand Rapids, Minn. The whole northern part of the state is shocked at the tragedy, and a motive is wanting. The woman was slashed to death with a knife, and there is no real clue to the murderers as yet.

The discovery was made at 1 o'clock yesterday morning by Ben and Michael Lieberman, who were walking home at that hour past the Cochran home. They heard faint cries of distress in the yard and made an investigation. They were shocked to find the aged woman covered with blood and in a dying condition. The woman expired in the arms of her would-be rescuers, and at no time after they found her was she in condition to make a statement. At the moment the men discovered her, the woman was trying to rise from the ground and blood spurted in jets from numerous wounds.

FATAL CRASH ON GREAT NORTHERN

BARNESVILLE, Minn., Aug. 18.—Engineer Frank Goodrich of this city, who was in charge of the Great Northern work train, was killed in a wreck three miles on this side of Moorhead when a switching engine crashed into his train.

His fireman, Ed Murray, also of this city, is severely injured, having a smashed leg. The engineer of the switching engine escaped with slight injuries.

NORTHWEST IN BRIEF

ROCHESTER, Minn.—Plans have been drawn for a new $60,000 hotel, to be erected probably on a lot owned by the Masonic temple and located near the corner of Main and Zumbro streets. Constantly increasing transient business makes it necessary to increase the city's hotel facilities.

ARLINGTON, S. D.—The State bank of Willow Lakes has changed hands, Messrs. Filbert and Schmidt, who owned the majority of stock, selling to E. A. Syverson of Bryant, formerly president of the State bank of Norden.

MANKATO, Minn.—T. B. Taylor has threshed 180 bushels of No. 2 wheat from 15 acres, and 610 bushels of oats from 28 acres. Some threshing from the shock is being done, but most of the farmers are stacking.

GLENWOOD, Wis.—Timely showers have wrought much benefit to the cucumber, sugar beet and other vegetable crops in eastern St. Croix county. The prospects are now good for the gathering of a sugar beet crop in the vicinity of Glenwood that will produce a cash yield of from $12,000 to $15,000. The cucumber crop being raised for the local pickle plant has suffered materially from dry weather, but the recent rains have put the farmers in a much more hopeful frame of mind.

A man doesn't think he has too many parcels if he has a free finger to scratch his nose, and a woman objects to carrying bundles unless one hand is free to lift up her skirts in going over crossings.

MILWAUKEE MAN IN BALLOON RACE

WEATHER OBSERVER TO SAIL DIRIGIBLE BALLOON

OTHER AMERICANS ENTERED

Lieutenant Frank P. Lahm and Capt. Charles D. F. Chandler Are Among the Contestants

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 18.—According to a Berlin dispatch Maj. Henry B. Hersey, U. S. weather bureau, of Milwaukee, is entered in the James Gordon Bennett cup race for dirigible balloons at Berlin, Oct. 10 and 11. Other Americans entered are Lieut. Frank P. Lahm and Capt. Charles D. F. Chandler, of the signal corps of the United States army. Besides these, there are twenty other entries, among them Prince Scipio Borgese of Italy, Dr. De Quarvain, the Zurich meteorologist, and Capt. Kindelain, adjutant to the king of Spain.

There are thirty entries in the international endurance contest representing the principal states of western Europe and it is probable that more than sixty balloons, large and small, will participate in the air cruises. Arrangements are being made to accommodate a quarter of a million spectators on the starting field near the gas works at the suburb of Schmargendorf.

Hersey to Be Alternate.
CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—On being informed that he was listed as an entrant for the balloon race in Berlin, Maj. Hersey of the weather bureau said he was merely an alternate for A. Holland Forbes and did not intend to enter the race unless something happened to Forbes. The entries from the United States as given by the Aero club of America are: Lieut. Frank P. Lahm, with N. H. Arnold as alternate; J. C. McCoy, with Capt. De F. Chandler as alternate, and Mr. Forbes, with Maj. Hersey as alternate. Owing to his duties in the weather bureau Maj. Hersey found it impossible to accept the invitation as a regular pilot, and became an alternate under protest.

DRAWS CROWDS BY SCATTERING COIN

EX-SUPERIOR MAYOR DISTRIBUTES PENNIES TO CROWD

IS BOOSTING MR. JENKINS

Starts on Auto Tour Through Country and Will Campaign for Next Two Weeks

SUPERIOR, Wis., Aug. 18.—There was a new angle to the Leno-Jenkins campaign shown when the ex-R. C. S. Starkweather, Superior's former impeached and vindicated "farmer parson mayor," took the stump for Judge Jenkins.

He went around the city in an automobile making speeches and will continue it for two weeks. He first distributed pennies among the children and attracted a crowd in that way. He promised candy for the women and children tomorrow. "Starkie," as he is known, was elected mayor here years ago and impeached a few months after he took office, later he ran independent and was elected.

A third time he was defeated by 37 votes and a fourth time by 1,200 votes.

WALKS OFF FAST TRAIN AND LIVES

RACINE, Aug. 18.—Mrs. Samuel Thompson performed the remarkable feat of walking from a fast Milwaukee road train at Corliss, with a child in her arms, both escaping serious injury. As the train neared Corliss she got up and walked off with the child, being hurled thirty feet. The child was stunned and reported dead, but recovered in a few moments, while Mrs. Thompson only had her thumb sprained.

GOV. DAVIDSON BACK TO MADISON

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 18.—Gov. Davidson returned from an outing of two weeks in the Green Bay country. The first week was spent with the state park commission in inspecting sites of proposed state parks. The past week was devoted to rest and pleasure, the governor being a member of a party of guests of Senator Isaac Stephenson on a lake trip and camp outing.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

PORTAGE—Lying upon his back on the floor unable to get up or move, save to slap one arm with the hand of the other, his head resting on the upturned teeth of a rake—such was the condition in which Almond Farrier was found by Arthur Voertmann at his home. Dr. Batty, who attended him, found that his left arm and a portion of his face were affected by paralysis. Mr. Farrier has lived alone since he had some trouble with his wife several years ago.

RICE LAKE—John Prelan, the new proprietor of the Central house, is making improvements in the building. The name will be changed to the Prelan house.

SHEBOYGAN—The body of Otto Krebs, son of one of the early city treasurers, of Sheboygan, and a veteran of the civil war, as brought to Sheboygan from his late home in Chicago, for burial in Wildwood cemetery. Mr. Krebs was a member of company H, Twenty-sixth Wisconsin infantry. After the war Mr. Krebs lived most of the time in Chicago, where he followed his trade of harness maker.

SHEBOYGAN—A novel contest was held at John M. Houser's saloon when aBrney Firzlaff and Matthew Flaig engaged in a fish dressing contest on a $10 wager. Mr. Flaig won by a few seconds. Each man was given thirteen chubs, the agreement being that each fish had to be dressed and the head cut off. In less than five minutes both were on the last fish.

SHEBOYGAN—Derailed freight cars between Newton and Manitowoc caused the northbound passenger train to lie at the North-Western depot until midnight, while a score of Manitowoc people and others amused themselves as best they could for three solid hours.

STANLEY—A rasetrack and athletic park is now an assured thing. The Stanley Park and Athletic association will manage it. The grounds secured are convenient to the business part of the city and will prove a sort of play ground for all the people.

VIROQUA—Unless there is rain, and a sufficiency of it, right soon to give new life to plants, there is sure to be a short crop of tobacco in this section of Wisconsin. There are few crops that give promise of a substantial harvest in weight, size and quality. The month's drought, added to the lateness in setting plants, is causing serious apprehension among growers and buyers.

WATERTOWN—Ira T. Witcher, arrested at Providence, R. I., on a charge of perjury, resided in Watertown for many years. He was formerly employed as a passenger brakeman on the Milwaukee road and of late years has been in poor health.

SURANNE—Good housewives prefer Gold Medal Flour. SALOME. GRAIN SHIPMENTS START

SUPERIOR, Wis., Aug. 18.—New coarse grain has commenced to arrive at the head of the lakes but the local authorities do not look for a rush before the last of the month or the first of September. The inspectors connected with the Wisconsin Grain and Warehouse commission were kept busy yesterday, the receipt for which Wisconsin inspection was asked including some thirty-five cars of rye, oats and barley, mostly the latter.

TWO ARE HELD FOR MURDER.

SUPERIOR, Wis., Aug. 18.—The police today arrested Matt Kramer and Gust Sletten, charging them with being connected with the murder of Erick Young, a woodsman. They were brought in from their shanty thirteen miles east of Foxboro. Young had lived with Kramer and disappeared July 4. His body was found near the shanty today.

WISCONSIN TEAM OFF TO CAMP PERRY

CAMP DOUGLAS, Wis., Aug. 18.—The team wound up its practice on to home rang last night with the most strenuous day's work ever put in by a body of riflemen, 180 rounds per man being fired. Col. McCoy seemed highly pleased as he stated the team had broken every record made by the '07 team with the exception of the rapid fire at 200 yards, which is on a smaller bullseye here. The team averaged 38 1-2, this including both the alternates and Coach Fowler. The team left at 12:30 last night and will arrive at Camp Perry at 5:30 p. m. today. They will shoot as two teams in the Herrick trophy match Wednesday and as individuals in the president's match Thursday.

CHILD HAS NARROW ESCAPE

WASHBURN, Wis., Aug. 18.—Injuries which may prove fatal were received by Regina, the 5-year-old daughter of Joe Trochin of this city, when she was struck by a Northern Pacific passenger train at the crossing in the lower end of the city. The little girl was playing near the track when the train hit her, knocking her into the ditch beside the track where she was found by relatives.

Where Once the Indian

Gund's Peerless Beer

The popularity of Peerless is due to its commanding superiority. It is a pure, wholesome beverage with a delightful flavor, because it is brewed by the celebrated Gund Natural Process—a peculiar process that retains in a most wonderful degree the aroma and strength of the grain and the hop. Peerless has justly won the Medal and Diploma of highest excellence in Paris, 1900, in competition with the best beers in the world, and in competition with America's best brews the Gold Medal at St. Louis in 1904.
